Dedication

The Honors Program, which began in the 1960's, by 1985 was almost defunct. The program began a major face-lift the following year with the appointment of Dr. Anthony Lisska as its director. Since then, Dr. Lisska has continuously contributed his time, dedication, and energized teaching to revitalize and strengthen the program. The results have been unbelievable. In 1985 only 40 students were enrolled in the Honors Program. 1994 saw a record 125 entering students in the program. Lisska has literally given new life to a once "dead" program.

In 1988, the current Honors Center, Gilpatrick, was founded. Gilpatrick is now the sight of social and academic activities. Dr. Lisska recognized that students need to grow not only academically, but socially as well. He believes interacting with students in the classroom is just as important as helping to guide the direction of their lives.

Dr. Lisska's efforts did not go unnoticed or unappreciated. Numerous administrators, faculty, and former students wrote to a committee in Washington, D.C. to express just how much of an impact Tony has had on Denison and the lives of students here. Dr. Lisska was awarded for his work in October, 1994 when he was chosen by USA Today as OUTSTANDING BACCALAUREATE COLLEGES PROFESSOR OF THE YEAR. And here are a few of the things Dr. Lisska's colleagues and students had to say about him:

"It has been his vision that defined what the Honors Program would be and his energy and commitment that have turned this vision into a reality."

Margaret L. Meriwether
Assoc. Professor of History

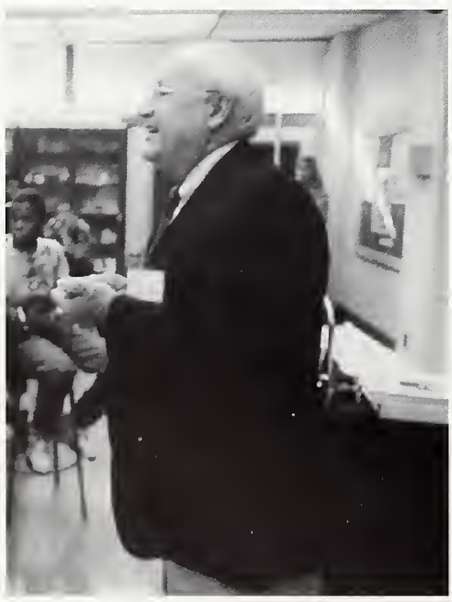

"Tony Lisska is an immensely energetic, creative, gregarious man who loves people and loves to teach. I enjoy his company, learn from him, and admire him."

Richard D. Shiels
Assoc. Professor of History (OSU)

"May other teachers of the world strive to emulate the excellence Dr. Lisska exemplifies as an advisor, role model, scholar, and most importantly, in the classroom as a teacher."

Daniel P. Meyer
Class of 1994

Thank you Dr. Lisska for all of your energy, dedication, love, and enthusiasm. You represent the best of what Denison has to offer and have made all of the Denison Community proud!

Young students at a school in Washington, D.C. had an opportunity to experience the enthusiastic teaching of Dr. Lisska.

Dr. Tony Lisska receives the award recognizing him as Professor of the Year from executives of USA Today.

HOMECOMING

The Half-Naked Cheerleaders push up for every point scored!

Homecoming 1994 was a special event this year at Denison. As usual, many alums could be seen visiting old friends, professors, and their respective greek houses. The stands were crowded for the game (especially to see those half-naked cheerleaders). Halftime festivies included the presentation of awards by Michele Myers to past students for their competition in Denison Sports. The date also marked the opening of the new recreation and fitness facility.

Half-naked cheerleaders Mike Daso, Bryan Deem, Jason Mihevic, Todd Roberts, and Rob Strayer continue to build those muscles as The Big Red puts more points on the board.

Pep band members Jennifer Beharry, Maria Budner, Katie Ehber, Gretchen Herzig, and Debbie Schick enjoy a snack before the game in the new recreation center.

The chocolate volcano erupts during the annual Homecoming Dance held in Slayter Hall.

WHAT

If the United States truly had a health care crisis in 1994, you couldn't have proved it by Congress. Despite the exhortations of President Clinton and the First Lady, the year ended without significant health insurance reform. In the absence of a public outcry, there was insufficient support in congress for the Clinton bill, which called for universal coverage.

It rained. Thousands crashed the gates. People with tickets couldn't get in or had to wait for hours. Portable toilets overflowed. Food occasionally ran short. Drugs were everywhere. Woodstock '94 looked a lot like the original 1969 rock festival — right down to the fans, who wouldn't have missed it for the world. When it was over, the rain-drenched and mud-covered lumbered home from the sloppy fairgrounds looking like the walking dead — who died smiling.

O. J. Simpson always lived life on camera, first as a football star, then as a sportscaster, commercial pitchman and actor. But nothing could have prepared him, or his fans, for the role he would play in 1994. The first reports were surprising enough: Simpson was suspected in the brutal slashing murder of his ex-wife Nicole and her friend, Ronald Goldman.But it was his arrest that proved unforgettable. Instead of turning himself in as promised, Simpson had a friend drive him on a rambling jaunt along southern California's freeways. Finally the Bronco returned to Simpson's west Los Angeles house, where he surrendered after nightfall. So began what many called the most famous murder case in American history.

The United States went to the brink of invading Haiti, its poor, unsettled neighbor to the south. But at the last minute Haiti's military rulers bowed to the United Nations and promised to cede power to the duly elected president whom they had ousted, Jean-Bertrand Aristide. With troop planes in the air and flying toward Haiti, three special U.S. envoys — former President Jimmy Carter, retired General Colin Powell and Sen. Sam Nunn — struck an eleventh hour deal with Gen. Raoul Cedras and colleagues.

Left: If rock 'n' roll is here to stay, 1994 made it clear that Aerosmith is too. The band of bad boys from Boston proved that heavy metal need not rust, taking three awards at the 11th annual MTV Music Video Awards ceremony at Radio City Music Hall in New York City. Aerosmith collected prizes for the "Cryin" video — best group video, video of the year and viewers' choice award.

Right: It was a match made in tabloid heaven: The child of one of the two biggest stars in rock history married the other biggest star in rock history. Lisa Marie Presley, Elvis's only child, got hitched to the reclusive Michael Jackson. After weeks of dodging photographers outside Jackson's Trump Tower apartment in New York City, the couple made a very public coming out: They opened the MTV Music Video Awards. The couple held hands during their brief appearance and exchanged a long kiss as the audience cheered wildly.

HAPPENED

Two men who had regarded each other with suspicion for six decades shook hands on the South Lawn of the White House, and once again peace in the Middle East seemed more than a dream. A year after he shook the hand of Palestine Liberation Organization chairman Yasser Arafat, Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin did the same with King Hussein of Jordan. The two nations had been enemies since the creation of Israel in 1948 following a brief, bitter war between Jews and Arabs.

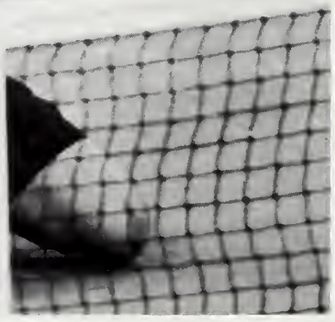

DURING

A deaf woman from Alabama became the first contestant with a disability to win the Miss America Pageant. The 68th Miss America was 21-year-old Heather Whitestone. After receiving the crown, she signed "I love you" amidst thunderous applause from the audience at the Atlantic City Convention Center.

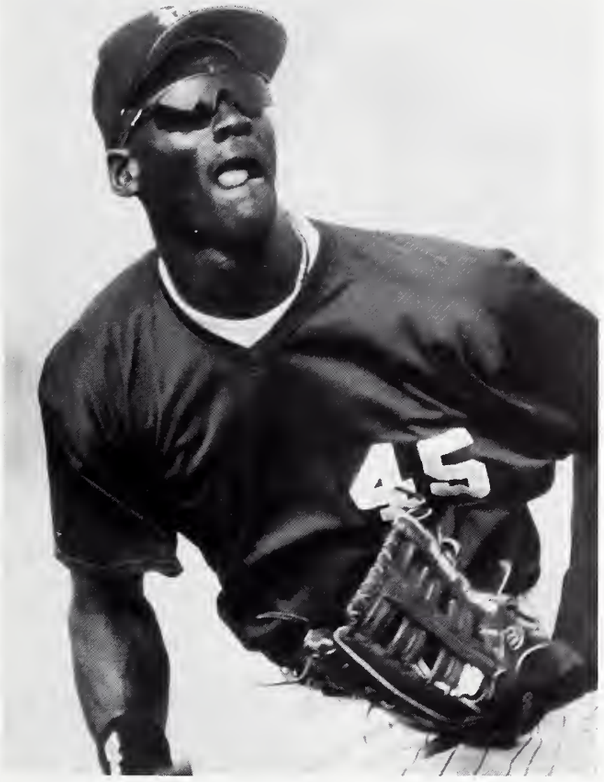

Andre Agassi was one of the best known entrants in the 1994 U.S. Open, but a year of largely indifferent tennis had left him unseeded and unheralded. So everyone was amazed when he won the tournament — including Agassi. "I'm still in a state of shock," he told the crowd after receiving a check for $550,000 and the champion's silver trophy.

They headed north on almost anything that would float, including rafts made of the flimsiest materials: oil drums, inner tubes, wooden planks. They were Cuba's boat people — tens of thousands of people desperate to come to the United States to escape the poverty and hunger of their increasingly isolated island Communist nation. Many did not make it because of storms, sinkings or the U.S. Coast Guard, which intercepted more than 1,000 of the craft in one day in early September.

Could the world's greatest basketball player make it on the diamond? That was the question in 1994 when Michael Jordan, in his first year of retirement from the Chicago Bulls, signed a contract to play minor league baseball for the Chicago White Sox. By the time the season ended, it was clear that the 31-year-old rookie outfielder still had a long way to go before he'd be ready for the big leagues.

The 1994 baseball season ended not with a home run or a strikeout, but with a conference call and a fax. On the 34th day of the major league players' strike, the team owners canceled the rest of the season, including the playoffs and the World Series for the first time since 1904.

ALL CAMPUS

This year's All-Campus Formal was held on February 11th at The Grand Host East in Reynoldsburg. Over 200 tickets were sold for the event. A pre-formal social was held on the third floor of Slayter for the guests before the buses arrived to transport them to the formal. WDUB provided the music for the event. Special thanks to Kimberly Tutwiler and Renee McMasters for co-chairing the committee responsible for

THE F. W. OLIN SCIENCE BUILDING

The construction crew finally makes its way indoors.

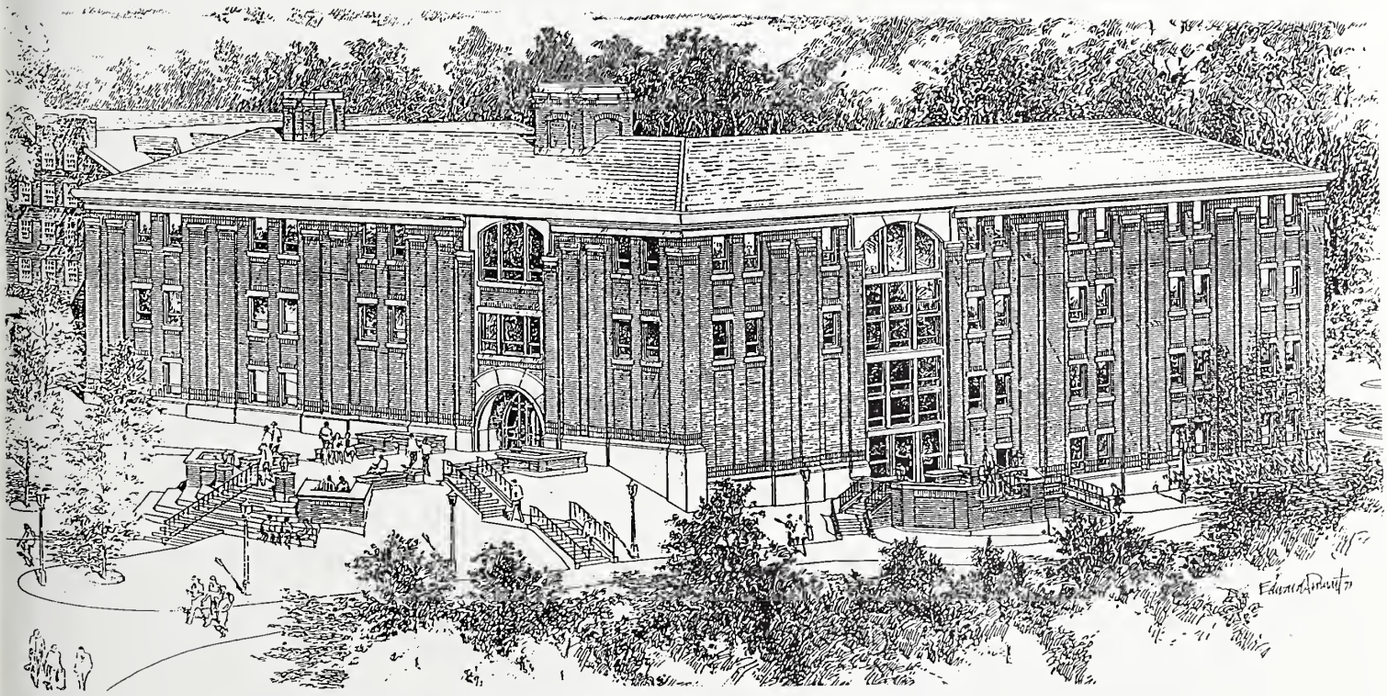

Construction shots of The Olin Building during various phases of its construction from the Winter of 1993 to the Fall of 1994. The building opened for classes in the Spring of 1995.

On October 1, 1992, during an All-College Convocation, the announcement was made that Denison had received a major grant from the F. W. Olin Foundation to build and equip a mathematical and physical science building on campus. Denison was one of two colleges to be chosen for the 6.1 million dollar grant. The ground breaking ceremony was held on April 16th and workers toiled from that moment on until the opening in the spring Semester of 1995. The result is a 44,500 square foot building shaped in a "J." Olin houses the departments of Mathematical Sciences, Geology and Geography, Physics and Astronomy, all formerly located in Barney Science. The design of the new building reflects an emphasis on how science is most effectively taught. Considerable space is devoted to individual student research, and laboratories are configured to encourage student-faculty interaction. The remaining space contains classrooms, faculty offices and student study spaces. Olin also boasts a 50-seat planetarium in its basement. "We are enormously grateful for the Olin Foundation's grant," said President Myers, "not only for the facility it will provide, but also for the vote of confidence it gives our programs in the sciences. This is a building that all Denison students, science majors and non-science majors alike, will use extensively. It is designed to provide the kind of laboratory environment that challenges, invites, and involves students and faculty in collaborative research and learning."

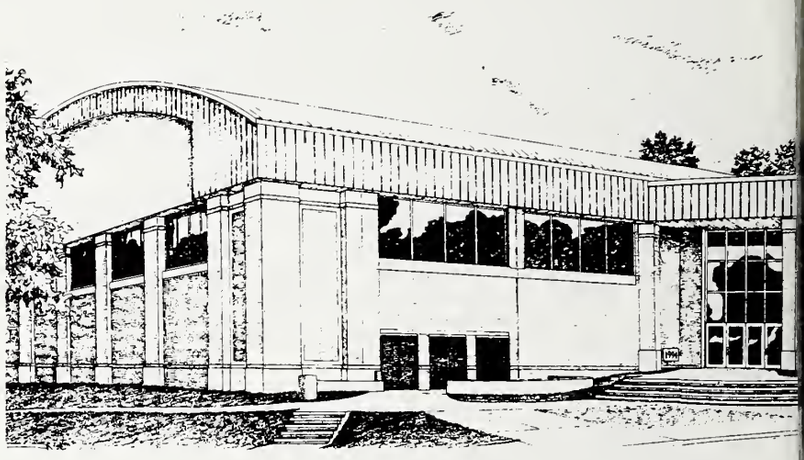

The finished product as designed by architects at MacLachlan Cornelius and Filoni of Pittsburgh.

THE RECREATION AND

1994

The opening of the new fitness complex was marked by the ribbon cutting ceremony held during Homecoming Weekend.

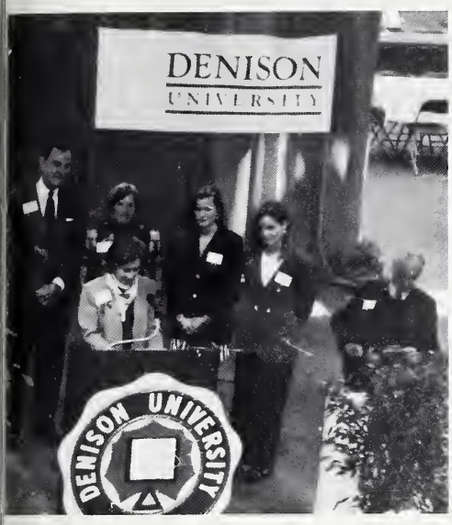

Below: The new Recreation Center in various stages of its construction.

ATHLETICS CENTER

President Myers addresses the crowd gathered for the opening of the center.

The beginnings of recreation at Denison are nearly contemporaneous with the college's own beginnings. There is no evidence of a time when recreation was not a part of life at Denison. Of course, it took time for things to get organized. We know that Denison baseball players were practicing as early as the 1850s and had a regular season of scheduled play by the 1860s. Football and basketball also appeared on the Denison scene about the same time they made their debut nationally. And there is evidence of women's physical education classes from the 19th century. But precisely where all this activity took place is at times a mystery. There were no college facilities devoted to athletics and recreational activity until 1880. The first "purpose-built" facilities for physical education and athletics were Cleveland Hall and Doane Gymnasium, both completed in 1905. The current Physical Education Center was opened in 1950. Important additions in 1962 and 1981 have mirrored the increase in athletic participation and the advent of recreational fitness programs. With the opening of the new Recreation and Athletics Center, Denison's facilities in support of healthful recreation and athletic fitness take an important step forward. The new center, a 7 million dollar undertaking, provides more than 70,000 square feet of space, relieving excessive crowding in the Physical Education Center. The Center includes a regulation 6 lane 200 meter track, indoor tennis courts, two squash rooms and an expansive, fully-equipped fitness/strength training room. The new Recreation and Athletics Center, a shining achievement of the five-year Campaign for Denison, stands as a vivid testimony that academic excellence and physical fitness go hand-in-hand at Denison.

STUDENT LIFE

STUDENTS

In the structure of a university, the most important part is the foundation. Without it, none of the other structures can exist. Here at Denison, the foundation is the students. They are the focus of the entire picture because they are the participants, whether it be in DCGA, SAC, student staff, or athletics.

STUDENT SENATE
"The Voice of The Student Body"

RESIDENCE HALLS

To support the foundation made by the students, the residence halls play the part of the structure. They house the students, providing a place for them to work and sleep, among other things. Life in the residence halls is one of the most unique experiences in college, and Denison has a variety of options to choose from.

STUDENT STAFF

In the residence halls, student staff works to support the structure. They are individuals selected by the Office of Student Affairs to keep life in the residence halls more comfortable and enjoyable, and to, in general, be a helpful resource to the students. Although their job has many responsibilities, it isn't all work and no play.

STUDENT LIFE

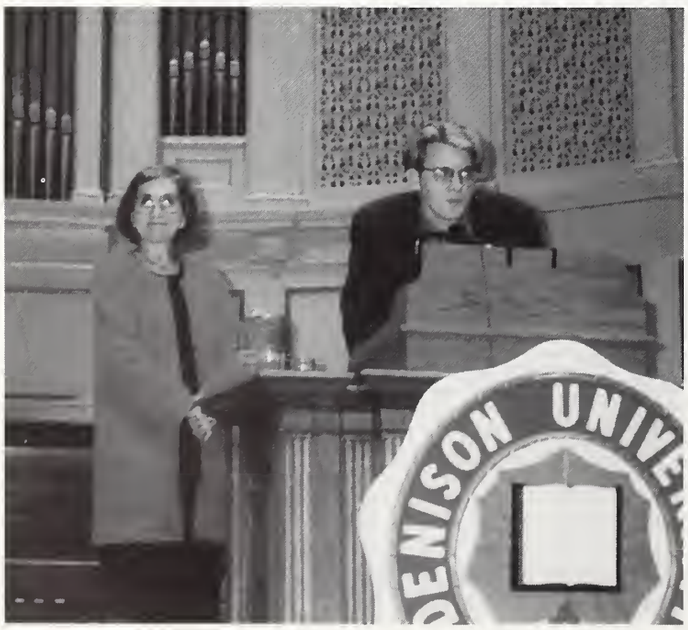

Administration and Faculty

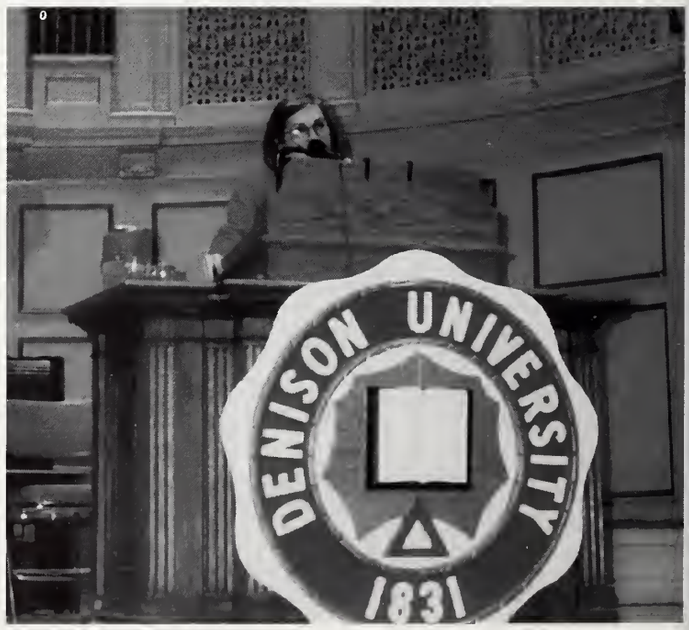

Any structure needs not only the foundation to be strong and successful, but the bricks and mortar as well. These keep the structure from collapsing, as well as add support to its many layers. In the structure of Denison University, the administration and faculty provide the bricks and mortar to keep us, the students, sturdy and structured. They provide the guidance, support, and encouragement needed for us to remain healthy and successful. Our building would not be standing if it wasn't for the faculty's presence as our support system. Even if we do not realize the support we are being given all the time, theirs is always a vital presence, for without them, our building, as well as ourselves as individuals could not survive. Their contributions to this structure are unique and invaluable.

President Michele Myers, Provost Charles Morris, and Associate Provost Keith Boone at the USA Today Awards Ceremony on October 23, 1994 honoring Anthony J. Lisska, Denison Professor of Philosophy, as the 1994 Outstanding Baccalaureate Colleges Professor of the Year.

Below are photos taken at the "State of the College Address" given by President Myers in March. Myers spoke of the goals she brought with her in 1989 when she came to Denison to serve as the college's first female president. President Myers' ultimate goal is to wipe away the image Denison has acquired of being a party school. In order to achieve this goal, Myers felt that six essential things must be done. First, the school must reaffirm the tradition of being a liberal arts college. Next, Denison must continue to recruit good faculty as well as high caliber and well-rounded students. Denison had to create areas in which the school would have an edge over its competitors. Social and residential improvements needed to be implemented in order to facilitate a more complete integration of academic and social life. Finally, to meet the above needs, a few changes had to be made financially. President Myers continued on to outline how each of these projects had progressed. Recruitment of excellent professors and top students has increased, evidenced, among other areas, in the thriving Honors Program. With the completion of the Olin Science Building, Denison has a decisive edge in the sciences. Technology across campus has increased and interdisciplinary programs have been strengthened to add to Denison's offerings. Financially, the college has managed to cut the fat out of the budget and with the end of the current campaign, has an additional $77.5 million to its credit. Myers finished by stating what she felt still needed to be improved upon to make Denison the best it could be. First, a stronger sense of community needs to be established. She would like to see Denison grow to about 1850 students. Finally, a balance between social and academic life must be found. Hopefully, with the strengthening of residential life this can be attained. President Myers thinks that with hard work, patience, and optimism these goals can be achieved.

Activities

Denison offers a wide variety of ac tivities catering to all interests. Withou these activities the average studen would have no outlet for artistic, ac ademic, and social energies untappe by the regular class schedule. As we ar building for a better future, the activ ities that abound at Denison becom very important as the floor of our struc ture.

ADYTUM

This year's Adytum staff was faced with the difficult task of producing two books in a single year. The hard work paid off, however, as both books were completed on time and looked great. First semester was devoted to finishing the 1993-94 edition and second semester the current book. The search for pictures and information brought a lot of staffers late nights but produced Adytums that can be cherished forever.

Broadway Limited

Director Steven Monroe and choreographer Patricia Hiatt created Broadway Limited to enhance Denison's music department with the addition of a musical theatre group. Members present musical selections from various popular Broadway shows each semester. This year, the Broadway Limited talent produced two wonderful shows including scenes from Sweet Charity, Nine, and Pippin. Hours of practice went into making each performance a crowd-pleaser.

Black Student Union

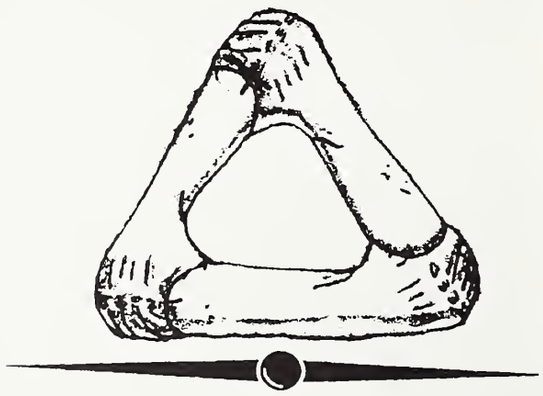

Among its other activities, Denison's Black Student Union promoted black heritage by joining others in celebrating Black History Month 1995. They welcomed many important speakers to share thoughts on campus. Throughout the month, convocations were held with presentations by religious leaders, actors, educators, and authors. Co-sponsors of the events included the Denison Lecture Series, Women's Studies Program, and the Office of Multi-cultural Affairs.

Bullsheet staffers often worked late into the night to provide the Denison community with this forum for news and dialogue. Printed each weekday, the Bullsheet offers a wide variety of information for its lunch-time readers. Campus news, ads, letters and other thoughts are gathered daily from students and presented along with editorials and world news. Hot topics of discussion in Bullsheet submissions included politics, social life, environmental concerns, and racial tensions.

Burpee's Seedy Theatrical Company, Denison's only improvisational comedy group, often helped students to shake off the academic blues. Performing many times throughout the school year, the Burps entertained large groups at each show with strange voices, funny faces, odd situations and lots of audience participation. This year, they jointly hosted a show with Comedy Sportz, a fellow comedy caravan, that travels around the country entertaining thousands. The show was a great success and students were eager to see them perform together again.

College Life

Enhancing spiritual life on campus was College Life. The organization presented speakers and discussed topics that affect students and their religious lives. Under the leadership of president Reynolds Lockhart, College Life's numerous members gathered for meetings and went on outings for fellowship with other Denisonians who share an interest in religion.

College Republicans

Supporting the conservative cause on campus are the Denison College Republicans. Members volunteered many service hours to the campaigns of local and state Republican party politicians. The group was vital to the election of Senator Nancy Chiles Dix, among others. College Republicans also gave conservative candidates an opportunity to speak their campaign messages at bi-weekly meeting.

Co-Chair Scott Kirkton expressed great delight in the results of the 1995 national elections reporting a majority win for Republicans in the U.S. Senate. His group is looking toward a bright future with the legislation of Republican ideals. The future of the College Republicans on campus also looks bright as the organization started publication of a newsletter and began working on plans for a coalition with Denison University Recycling Program executives to cut wasteful environmental spending with the Greenscissors Report.

COSEN's purpose is encouraging women and African Americans to pursue science-related careers. Funded by charitable trusts, the organization consists of eight universities in Ohio and the Carolinas. Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday nights always produced a crowd in Slayter Auditorium for the next movie presented by the Denison Film Society. Dan Ewen and his team of movie-lovers overcame more than their share of technical difficulties early in the school year to bring Denison its favorite films. The purchase of new equipment brought great sound for classics like Blazing Saddles, Godzilla vs. Megalon and Saturday Night Fever. Many students looked forward to movies such as these for a needed break from studying or to get the weekend started off right.

Denison Lecture Series

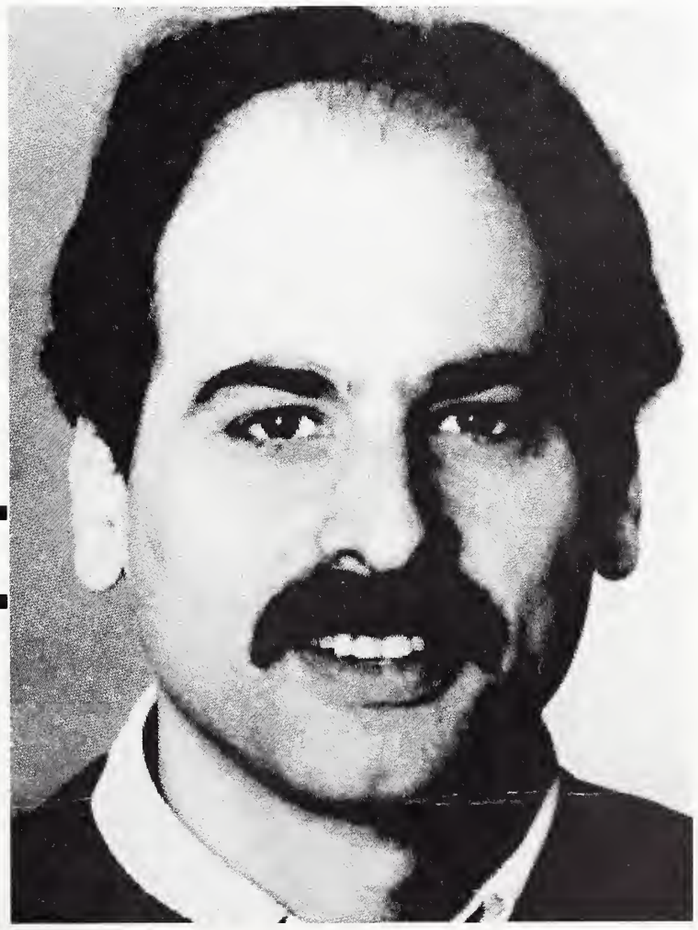

The Denison Lecture Series brings important issues to the attention of the Denison community through the sponsoring of convocations. President Gowon Snyder and other Lecture Series supporters arrange for speakers that can present important messages for the good of the college audience. This year, an annual "State of the College Address" was given for the first time by President Michelle Myers. Other speakers sponsored by the Lecture Series included Robert Meeropol, Rosenberg trial researcher, Dr. Jack G. Shaheen, internationally acclaimed specialist on stereotypical portraits of racial and ethnic groups, and Fred "Chico" Lager, developer of Ben & Jerry's into a $150 million corporation.

Cleaning the river was the purpose of the excursion as everything from tires to shoes was pulled from its bottom. The project, held in conjunction with the Licking County Prevention Office benefitted the environment and gave the volunteers time to work on that perfect tan.

Denison Campus Government Association

Denison's Campus Government Association, representing all Denison students in the policy-making process of their alma mater, was led this year by President Tito Williams. Assisted by many others, Tito and his executive board tackled many difficult problems facing the Denison community. Budget concerns topped the list this year as DCGA funds and supports all groups and organizations on campus. A restructuring of the Executive Committee was also proposed for the future to make the governmental system more effective and to better facilitate students with concerns.

PUBLISHED WEEKLY — DENISON UNIVERSITY

Under the direction of Editor-in-Chief John D. Carroll and Managing Editor Dan Fiden, the Denisonian staff strove to cover all the most important news affecting Denison students, the Granville community, and the world. Numerous issues were published this year with fine news articles, editorials, and entertainment. The pages of The Denisonian became a resource for many to stay abreast of issues on campus and everywhere.

Denison International Student Association

Denison's International Student Association sponsors activities to help international students get acquainted with their new surroundings and make new friends. The group held all-campus parties and took outings that promoted interaction between students. Dr. Eduardo Jaramillo advised the group which celebrates the diversity of Denison's student body.

EXILE

Published once every semester, Exile is Denison's campus literary and art magazine. Students are encouraged to regularly submit poetry, fiction and art to be considered for publication by other students on staff. THE HILLTOPPERS

Denison's a cappella men's group, the Hilltoppers, entertained many with their golden tones. Members went through a tough audition and countless hours of practice to produce the perfect blend of favorite oldies and new pop songs. Homecoming (top) saw old and new Hilltoppers together again while current members (above) entertained prospectives during the spring. Popular among Denison ladies, the Hilltoppers performed around campus throughout the school year and always drew a large crowd.

HONORS PROGRAM

The Honors Program had a very busy year from the start when honors applications reached an all-time high of more than 500 incoming students. The program's pursuit for excellence was acknowledged when director, Dr. Anthony Lisska, was honored as Professor of the Year by USA Today in the fall. Jennifer Casey, Gilpatrick Fellow, along with the Honors Social Committee, coordinated a schedule packed full of fun for the year. Events included the ever-popular study breaks and Chowder Hours, a murder mystery party, the annual formal and homecoming festivities, and last, but not least, the competitive euchre tournament.

Top Right: Ladies' Night Out 1995. Bottom Left: Niargi Peterson turns on the charm for a lucky audience member. Bottom Left: The ladies perform for an enraptured crowd.

The Ladies' Night Out a cappella group entertained many this year with their beautiful sound. Members Cory Welles, Gail Rapuzzi, Christy Hull, Catherine Byrne, Robin Scully, Sandy Challen, Lizzie Loud, Niargi Peterson, Caroline Richards and Alison Begg, pictured above, were chosen from among other outstanding Denison vocalists to present their mix of current pop tunes and favorite oldies. The audition process was long and hard, but these ladies were chosen to produce the enchanting harmonies and melodies that make this group one of the best.

MōYO

MoYo, Mind of Your Own, is Denison's student-run magazine. It focuses on controversial campus and world issues. Contributors write articles, take pictures, and draw cartoons that often address personal concerns and relate them to other students and faculty on campus. Issues this year included articles on such topics as musical groups, sexual deviance, agnosticism, and ethnicity.

SEXUAL DEVIANCE: IMAGE, IDENTITY, AND IDEA

My interest in sexual deviance, or dissidence, as I will call it, is concerned with the cultural and aesthetic implications of sexual dissidence. Sexual identity and the aesthetic imagination are related. As I see it, art is often a response against the reality and power of nature, both the environment that surrounds us and the "natural" within us all. I begin with a passage from Camille Paglia that I find provocative: "In the beginning was nature. The background from which and against which our ideas of God were formed . . ."

EMPOWERING AGNOSTICISM
By: Donovan Dodrill

People are wonderful, dynamic beings. We are capable of the most profound bouts of joy and disappointment, success and failure, pleasure and pain. If God were capable of anything less, I would be disappointed. Our search for the truth is one which, more than any other pursuit we undertake, illustrates the tenacity of our species. The founding ideal that we as humans rely upon in our relentless pursuit for knowledge, is that there are universal truths to be found. This, I argue, is our first and greatest mistake. The only constant is change.

WDUB FM91.1

The airwaves were always buzzing as Denison's radio station WDUB FM 91.1 went to a 24 hour format. The decision to change from a regular hour plan necessitated a lot of changes at the station as students were needed to fill those early morning time slots. WDUB broadcasters rose to the challenge, however, as the tunes and entertainment were available at any hour. Favorite music ranged from classic rock to pop to alternative.

Student Activities Committee

The Student Activities Committee brought a lot of top-notch entertainers to campus this year. In their efforts to provide students with exciting music groups, SAC hosted Jackopierce, Over the Rhine, Ekoostick Hookah, and Chris Logsdon. Other performers appearing at Denison compliments of SAC included Comedy Caravan stand-up acts, contortionists and the Comedy Sportz troupe. A great many students attended these and other SAC events which were highly publicized and anticipated.

spin doctors

The cancellation of the scheduled February 25th Rusted Root/Spin Doctors concert hit the Denison community hard. The Student Activities Committee had worked for months to get the date, but after a contract break with Spin Doctors, the management of Rusted Root cancelled all presently scheduled shows. Disappointment was shown by students with the possibility of having only one band perform, so SAC took measures to refund all ticket money collected and cancelled the remaining Spin Doctors gig.

LIFE

ΑΦΑ

Occasionally, or every-so-often, all houses and buildings need to go through some kind of repair for various reasons. The job that takes the most time and contemplation is the rooms. You may not be able to use the room while it is undergoing the job of getting a new look. The problem is not the repair, but when you realize that you don't need the room. What are you going to do other than turning your guest room into your new library or vice versa? Whatever it is that you decide to do, be careful because, though you may not remember, you wanted it in the first place. Many of your memories, both good and bad, were made while you were in that room. It might come back to you once you step into that room . . . even long after you thought you might not need it anymore. So before you take your first swing with that sledge hammer, take a trip back to the moment when you took your first step into that special room.

If there are rooms that might have become of no use, there are also rooms that you want to spend your sunny afternoon in. With all of your favorite pillows, blankets, music (Oh, don't forget your ice-tea or diet Coke!) and whatever makes you feel comfy and cozy. It would be the place to hide from everything that makes you go nuts. To make it better, take some of your friends along. They, for sure, would make you feel better. You can share stories or just enjoy the sunset together. Isn't it nice to have a place for all these things? But, don't forget that comfortable rocking chair that you can sit on to look outside of the window!

Rush At Denison

Rush? Rush What?!

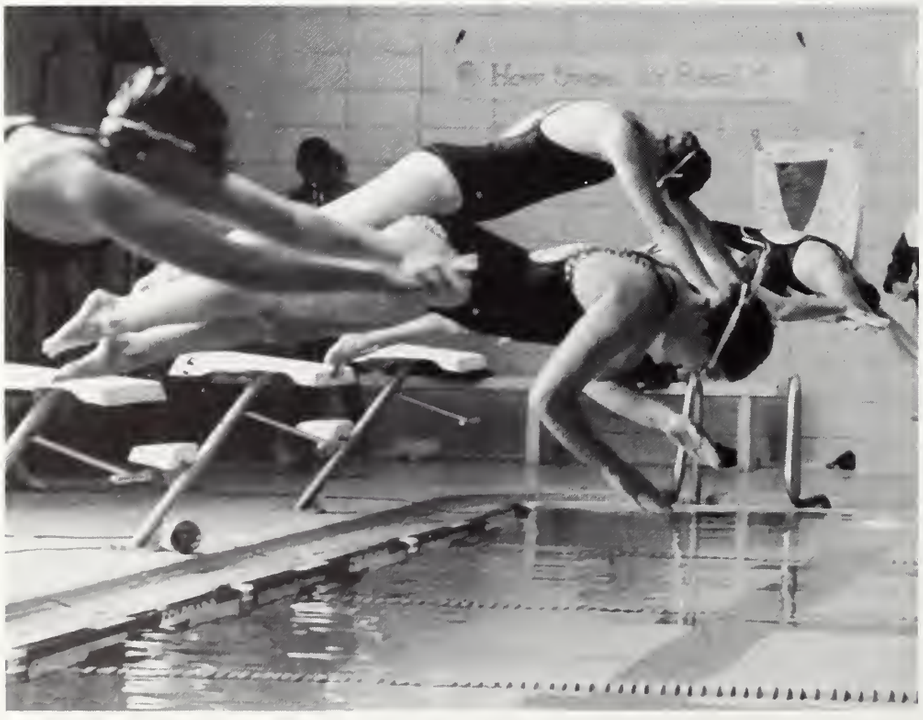

What do new clothes, new people, parties, and three inches of snow add up to? If you guessed excitement and intrigue you are almost correct. In actuality, however, it is Spring Rush at Denison. For two weeks, the sororities and fraternities search all over the campus to find those certain people that will make their respective houses better and more productive. Parties are given, selections are made, and many an anxious night is spent in nervousness before that special weekend in January when the students of Denison find out where their new home is to be.

There are many sides to life at Denison. Students here have many avenues to choose from when determining where they would like their path to lead. One of these many roads is athletics. At Denison, sports are like a window to a building. A student can choose to be a spectator and just look out the window or be a participant and actually climb through the window. Athletics can be used to relieve the stress and frustrations that build up from day after day of academics. When one opens up that window, whether to watch or to play, he or she lets a breath of fresh air into their life. Their mind relaxes and thrives on the opportunity to think outside of the classroom. So don't be afraid to open many new windows during your time at Denison. The experiences will prove to be fun and refreshing!

FINE ARTS

When walking around a building, one rarely stops to notice the hallways. It is the hallways, however, that hold a building together. They are what allow you to get from one place to another. They are the place where you go to breathe a sigh of relief after a tough exam. They are the place where you see and greet your friends every day. They can be colorful, artistic, plain, crowded or lonely. Whatever they are, soft, loud, bright or dark they are too often the unappreciated section of a building. In the world of Denison, these characteristics correspond with The Fine Arts. They are just as varied as hallways can be and they too are often ignored. But just like the halls, they are what holds Denison together. Without dance, theatre, and music, Denison would be a place devoid of beauty and serenity.

Behind the Scenes

When most people go to the theatre to see a production, they do not realize the amount of work that is done before the actors ever enter the stage. Costumes must be made. Sets must be designed, built, and painted. Lighting must be perfected. Sound systems must be checked, and props must be gathered. All of these tasks add up to a lot of work with none of the glory. These two pages picture just a few of those brave souls doing their jobs. To these talented folks, however, all the effort is worthwhile when one of their productions goes off without a hitch and the audience leaves smiling.

Honoraries and Abroad

When students first come to college as eager, young freshmen, they are told that their education is the door to their future. What they are not told, however, is that it is only the outside door to the building of life. Once inside, there are many other doors that must be tried and possibly entered. Some may be locked and others may just lead to empty rooms, but there will be a few that will change their lives forever. Two such doors here at Denison are those belonging to the Abroad program and the many different honoraries. These doors, though different, lead to many exciting places for students. New contacts are made, new cultures are learned, and new ideas are exposed. Both of these "doors" truly lead to the future.

CONGRATULATIONS
CLASS OF 1995

Now we have hit the top of the building. The Seniors round out the final step in the completion of our building, the roof. These students have spent the last four years at Denison climbing the ladder in hopes of reaching their ultimate destination, graduation. Along the way, they have gained much knowledge and experience. The skills they have acquired and honed are now used to guide and protect those students who are still making their journey upward — just like a roof protects the inhabitants of the building. Now the building is complete and it is time to celebrate. What better way than with a graduation ceremony. Students are honored for their hard work and dedication to achieving their goals. Along with acknowledging an end, graduation also signifies a new beginning. Now the seniors will move on to a bigger and better building that will probably have many wings and additions. Taking with them what Denison has taught them, these students are well prepared to meet the challenge of designing and building their own structure. Best of luck seniors, as you break ground on your new lives!

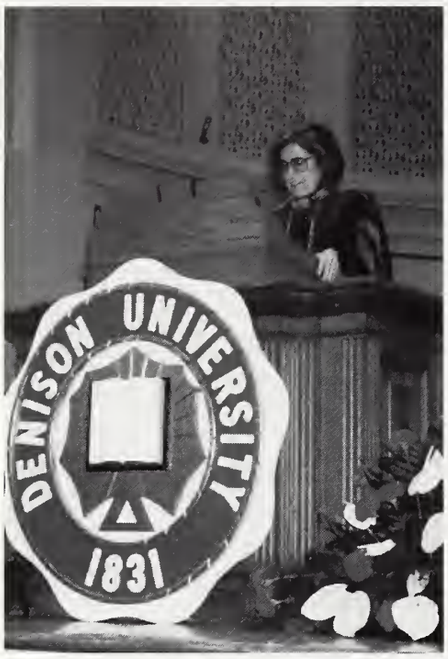

Academic Awards Convocation

President Michele Myers presided over the 1995 Academic Awards Convocation held in Swasey Chapel. In her opening address, President Myers stated that the students honored today represented the best of Denison. They have contributed to the life of the Denison Community, worked hard, demanded the best, and wanted to be challenged. Myers continued by introducing the special guests present. Charles Brickman, President of the Board (left center), Mrs. Polly Anderson, and a representative for Mr. Stibitz. Mike Nicholson and Dan Bonar were presented with the J. Reid Anderson and George R. Stibitz Distinguished Professorships for 1995. Provost Charles Morris announced the recipient of Denison's Teaching Excellence Award, Rita Synder (all pictured lower right). Morris praised the students for their excellence which "sustains our dedication to teaching." Morris also presented Chris Timura with a plaque for being a Truman Finalist (bottom left). Other students recognized for their academic achievements were members of Phi Beta Kappa and those named as Distinguished Leaders. The ceremony concluded with the presentation of the President's Medals. Nine students were honored with the prestigious awards.

The presentation of the candidates for the President's Medals was done by Professor Richard Lucier, Chair of the Faculty (Above).

The criteria for President's Medals are very strict, as is the competition. The selection is based on intellectual achievement and a combination of the following:

Service to the community
Contribution to the arts
Enlargement of our global perspective
Athletic fitness
Leadership
Contributions to community discourse

The purpose is to celebrate the many dimensions of excellence that students at Denison achieve.

With love, pride and congratulations!
Mom & Dad

I wish you the courage to be warm
when the world would prefer that you be cool.
I wish you success sufficient to your needs; I wish you failure to temper that success.
I wish you joy in all your days; I wish you sadness so that you may better measure joy.
I wish you gladness to overbalance grief.
I wish you humor and a twinkle in the eye.
I wish you glory and the strength to bear its burdens.
I wish you sunshine on your path and storms to season your journey . . .

I wish you peace — in the world in which you live and in the smallest corner of the heart where truth is kept.
I wish you faith — to help define your living and your life.
More I cannot wish you — except perhaps love — to make all the rest worthwhile.

In life, seek not happiness.

In life, dance a wild, joyous dance of happiness.

I love you, Cynthia

CONGRATULATIONS

Dear Kelly,

May there always be work for your hands to do.
May your purse always hold a coin or two.
May the sun always shine on your windowpane.
May a rainbow be certain to follow each rain.
May the hand of a friend always be near you.
May God fill your heart with gladness to cheer you.

May the road rise up to meet you, may the wind be always at your back, and may the Lord hold you in the palm of His hand.

With Love, Pride and Congratulations
Mom, Dad, Colleen and Nanny

CONGRATULATIONS CHERYL!
YOU ARE OUR M.V.P. (MOST VALUABLE PERSON)
LOVE,
MOM, DAD, AND SEAN

Congratulations, Boon! As you know, it's not easy to become successful. Education is extremely important. #1 is your choice. Parents can only support financially and by giving advice. Boon, what you have done in the past four years at Denison is an achievement in itself. Please continue your success. We hope that sooner or later, your dream will come true.

Love!
Dad & Mom

We're Proud Of You Holly! Love, Mom and Dad

Congratulations & Love from Mom, Dad, Lonn, Katie, Dan & Rosie

No matter where in the world your path in life takes you, always know that our love and pride in your accomplishments will go with you.

Mom, Dad, and Jeremy

To Our "African Queen"
Congratulations Sandy
We are so proud of you and all of your accomplishments.
Love,
Dad, Mom & Karen

Suzie — Keep Smiling! You are the best! Congratulations!

CELEBRATE LIFE

Think freely, smile often.
Tell those you love that you do.
Rediscover old friends.
Make new ones.
Hope, grow, give.
Give in.
Pick some daisies.
Share them.
Let someone in.
Hug a kid.
Slow down.
See a sunrise.
Listen to the rain.
Trust life.
Have faith.
Enjoy.
Make some mistakes.
Learn from them.
Explore the unknown.

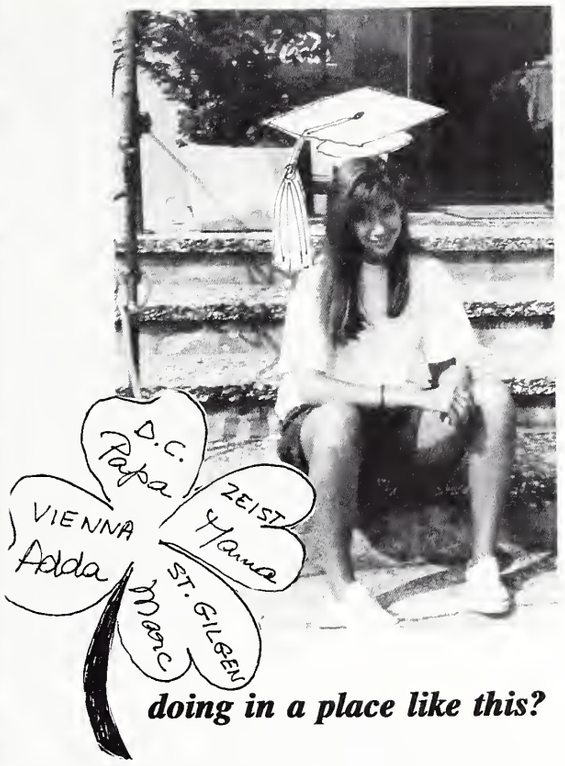

CELEBRATE LIFE!

CONGRATULATIONS, KARLA...Continue to dream big and reach high, live, love and laugh!

LOVE, MOM & DAD

What is a K.u.K. CAP like you...

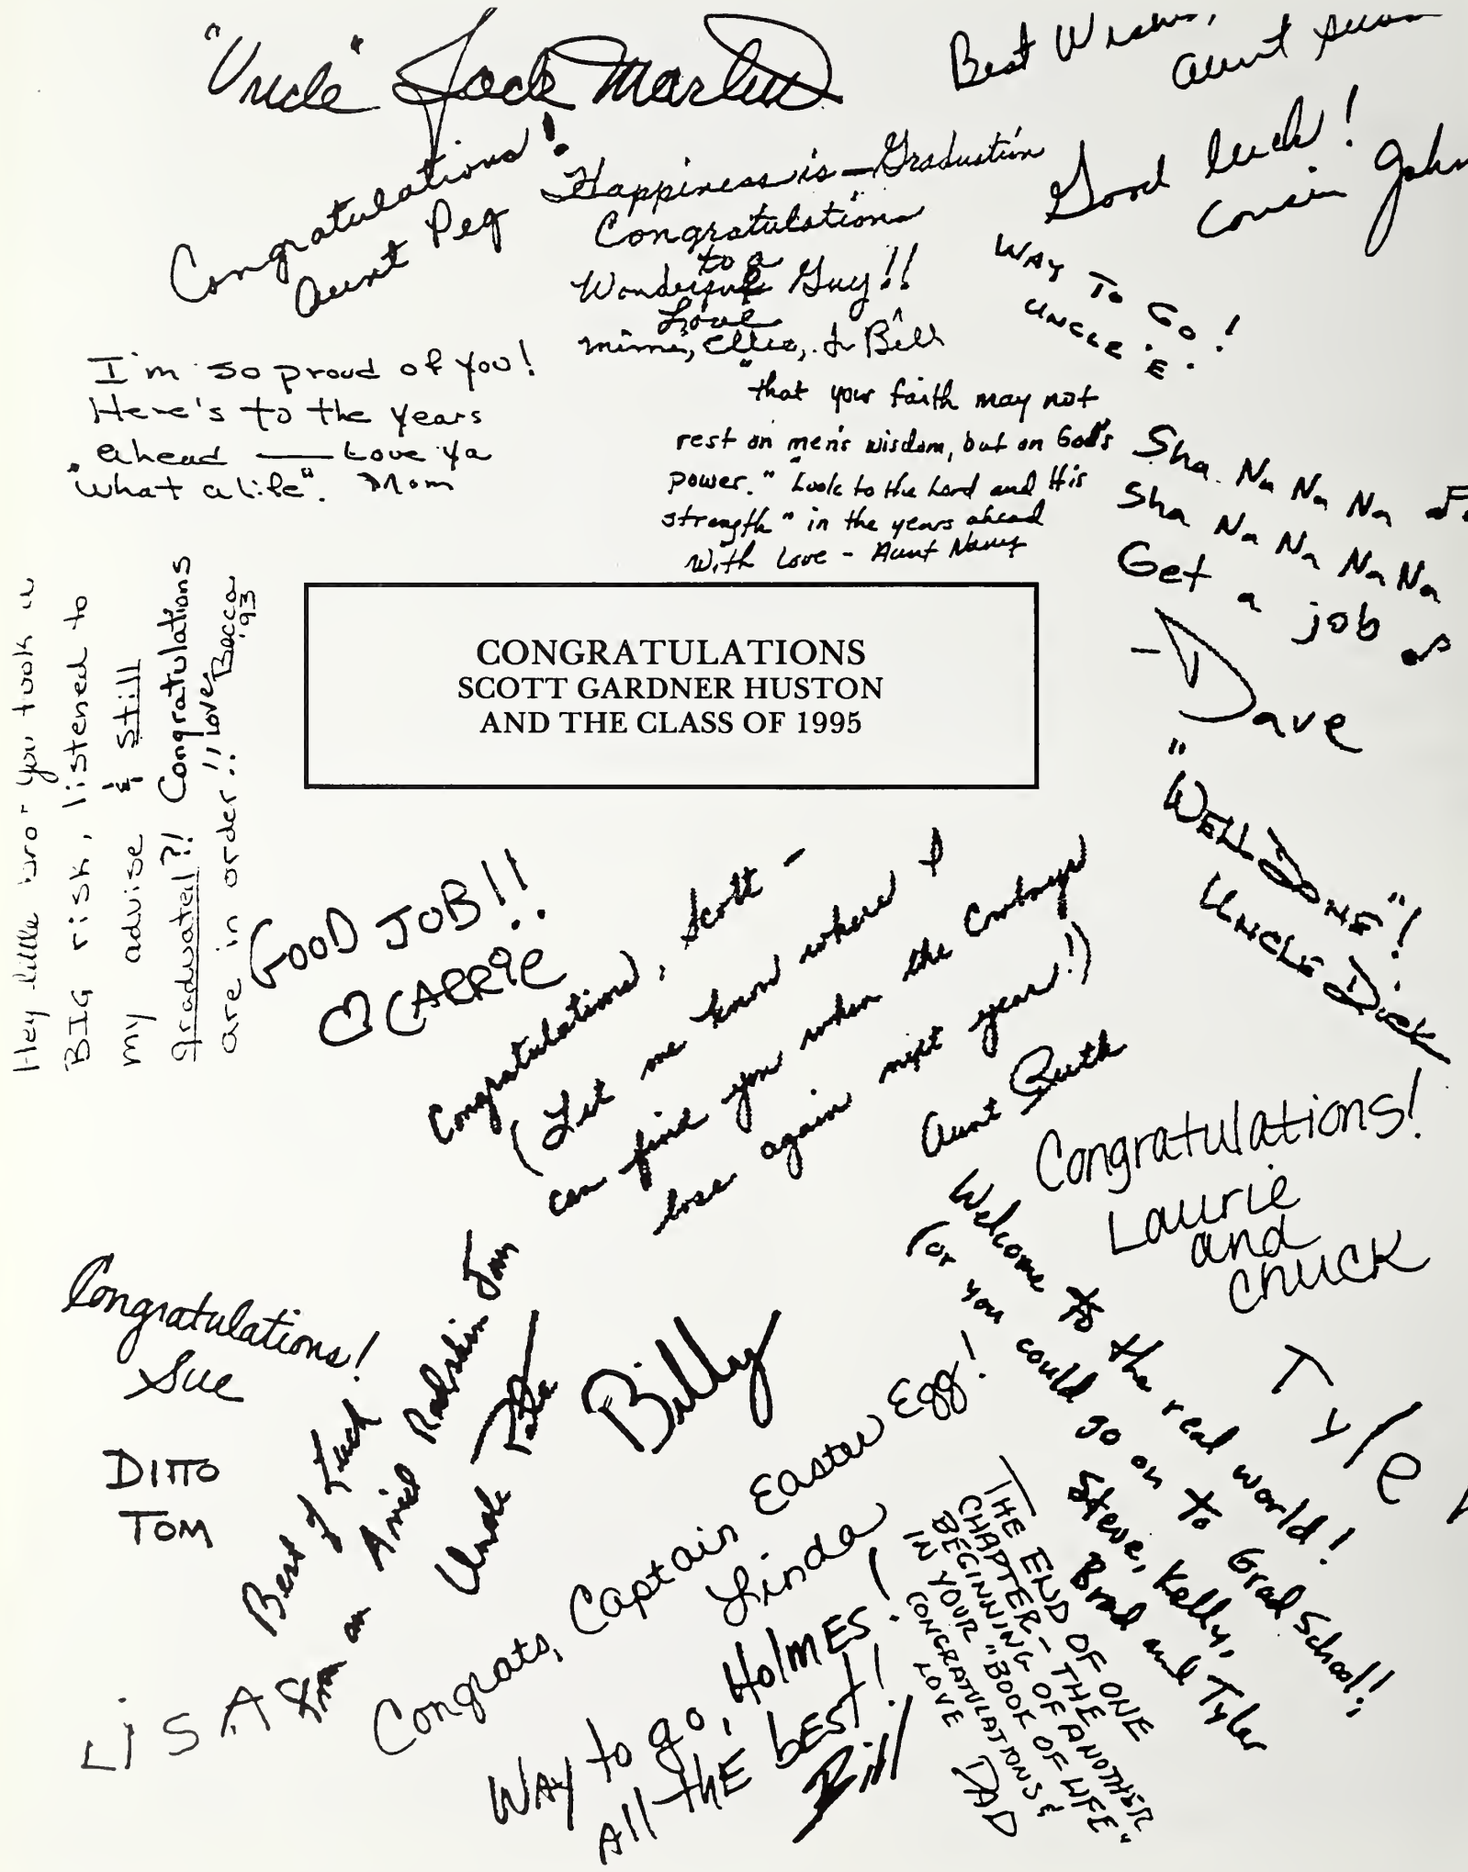

doing in a place like this?

A model of sweetness you've always been,
Our daughter and sister, in life you will win!
We hope you'll be happy and never have tears,
May you have love and adventure in your future years.

With love,
Mom, Dad, Marc, & Brooke

Next Time, I Think I'll Borrow a Horse

JEREMY

Dearest Rachel Jude,
At the end of that first day of nursery school you ran to me, your mom, your world . . . Now as you complete your college education you run to your future, the world . . . How wonderfully lucky, the world, to be getting my world, YOU!

Congratulations Sweetest Heart!
Love you to pieces mieces!

From This — Your first day of school until now . . . We've always been proud!

Congratulations

Bobby!!

Love, Mom, Dad,
Anna, Sarah, & Tom

Dear Timmy,
Dad, Jennifer, Bill and I are so proud of you. You have accomplished grea things and we are certain that there is, "more to come."
To borrow from Erma Bombeck, "even when your hairline resembles th shoreline of Lake Erie, you will still be our baby." Best Wishes!
Love, Mom & Dad, Jennifer & Rick, and Bill
P.S. We will never be able to express how much pride that we had when yo sang that WONDERFUL solo in the production of HAIR.

DAVIN LEE LAMBERT

One Denison University graduate is reason to be proud,
Having two Big Red grads gives us cause to shout out loud!
God knows they are not perfect, they've put us to the test.
But, when it comes to kids, these Lamberts are the best!

For Erin, college was a lark, a place to make new friends,
For Davin, college was a party-with tuition that never ends!
But, if loyalty, spirit & "zest for life" are tickets to success,
Then, this "dynamic duo" will stand heads above the rest.

With Love and Pride,
Mom, Dad & Marnie

This is it! The building is finally complete. So now you are asking why there is an hourglass on this page rather than a picture of a brand-spanking new building. Well, there is a method to my madness. I got tired of 238 pages of building-talk and decided to put a new twist on the book.

When you enter Denison, you are given something very precious, time. During these four, short years, you must design, create and construct your own building. From the minute you step onto campus as a freshman you begin to lay the foundation. Starting with your roommate, you meet new people and build new friendships. The construction process continues in the classroom as you build relationships with professors and administrators. Your friends and faculty are the people you will turn to for support, so build your structure well.

Give yourself something to stand on. Get involved in all the activities that Denison has to offer. Build a variety of halls, floors and rooms filled with lots of windows. These will be your outlets to social and community life. Leave all the doors unlocked, for who knows what may lay behind them.

Most importantly, as you climb that ladder, have fun. Be able to nail that last shingle to the roof at graduation and leave Denison knowing full well that you have reaped all the opportunities and knowledge this college on the hill has to offer (and had fun doing it!).

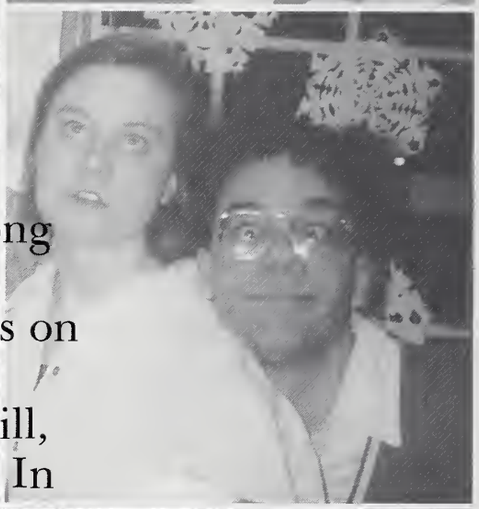

Although I haven't finished constructing my building yet, I already feel I have created a strong structure and begun to fill it with many exciting dimensions. Along the way I have had the help of many, but a few who I would especially like to thank. Wes — for your faith and encouragement to trugg on (the sundaes helped too!). Tito — for your faith and unending patience with me. You are a true friend and have built one hell of a building for yourself! And finally Diane — you kept me going and listened to my unending tirade of problems. God bless your heart!

These people, as well as many others too numerous to count, have contributed to my success. I hope all who read this are lucky enough to find friends like mine during their years at Denison. I challenge you to take your time and build a strong, sound building you can be proud of. It will be well worth the work!

"To Denison"

To Denison, we raise our song
Fair College on the hill,
The name that sets our souls on fire,
And makes our senses thrill,
To Denison, my Denison, In praise our voices swell,
The scene of happy college days,
The home we love so well.
